

FIGURES GIVEN BY SENATE HOUSE

Republicans Retain Control of the Former, the Democrats Cap- turing Lower Branch

The political upheaval of Tuesday was followed yesterday by a general survey of the field which disclosed with greater detail and precision just what had been accomplished.

Latest calculations on the national House of Representatives based on complete but unofficial returns show the Democrats will have a safe majority of thirty.

The outcome of the United States Senate is now definitely settled. The Republicans are assured of seven seats, which, with 34 holdover senators, gives them a total of 41. The Democrats are assured of 15 new senators, which, with 25 holdovers, give them a total of 40.

One senatorship is still in doubt, where there is a prospect of a tie. These determined totals, however, leave the Republicans in control of the Senate, as the following shows:

Total membership, 92; number necessary to majority, 47	225
Democrats elected	165
Republicans elected	1
Total	391
Majority of House	196
Democratic majority	29
Democratic plurality	60

California, Nov. 9.—Late returns do not materially alter the indicated plurality for the entire Republican ticket of from 20,000 to 30,000. A long ballot complicated by a number of constitutional amendments and proposals has greatly delayed the count, and but little more than one-half of the total precinct returns have come in. These cover the cities and populous regions, however, and the returns from the sparsely settled counties will not affect the result.

The defeat of Theodore Bell, Democratic candidate for governor in the city of San Francisco, where it was thought he would have a heavy vote, is ascribed to the Socialist vote. In San Francisco Hiram Johnson, the successful candidate, received 24,935 votes; Bell, 23,693; and Wilson, Socialist, 9,692. Political observers say that the Socialist vote was drawn largely from Bell. In statement issued this afternoon Mr. Bell says:

"I regard my defeat simply as a result of the overwhelming Republican sentiment of this state."

Washington, Nov. 9.—So far as known only one county in the state of Washington voted Democratic in the congressional election. The plurality of Republican supreme judgeship candidates is estimated at 40,000, as against 47,371 for Taft in 1908. The most interesting result of the election is the ratification of the women's suffrage amendment to the state constitution. The amendment will become law as soon as the governor receives the official count and proclaims that the amendment has been ratified. Some 15,000 women will at once become qualified voters, and they will participate in the spring elections.

Every county thus far reported gave majority for the amendment.

The Socialist vote was probably about 4,000. The local option elections gave notable victories to the "drys."

EGTEEN MINERS SURVIVED EXPLOSION IN DELAGUA MINE

Fifty-one Known to Be Dead, While Twelve of the Employees Are Missing

DELAGUA, Colo., Nov. 9.—Through two openings scarcely 200 yards apart, the dead and living were taken from the Delagua mines of the Victor-American Fuel company at the same time today, but the dead far outnumbered the living.

Tonight fifty-one are known to be dead, while eighteen have escaped alive. One of the imprisoned miners, staggering out of No. 2 mine, unaided, brought the news that others were alive in the No. 2 workings. R. Akai, a Japanese, after lying insensible from the effects of the after-damp all night, recovered his senses this morning and found his way to the surface. He was dazed and unable to tell through what passages he had come, but was certain that others still lived in the part of the mine he had crossed.

The rescue crew followed back from entry No. 2 and soon brought thirteen others to the surface. Akai was greeted by a salvo of "banzais" by his countrymen as he staggered down the hill. Scarcely had the line of rescued men begun to trickle from No. 2 mine when carpenters were called to No. 3 entry to make rough stretchers, and it became known that 25 bodies had been found in four entry north. Later other bodies were found in the same section of the mine, which brought the total to fifty-one.

At 10 o'clock tonight thirty-five bodies had been brought out to the morgue, established at the machine shop. Both living and dead found today were foreigners. Twenty-nine Mexicans were found in one heap. Seven of the department heads of the mine are known to be buried in a cave in 400 feet long, which bucks the main slope. Three shifts are working with might and main tearing away the debris, but it may be many days before the bodies are recovered.

The rescue work today brought a constant series of narrow escapes to rescuers. Many were overcome and were carried out on the backs of their companions. J. C. Roberts, in charge of the government mine rescue car, and some

PROTEST OF AMBASSADOR

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 9.—Through insults to the American flag and assaults made openly upon American citizens in the streets, the anti-American demonstration which began last night with the stoning of the Mexican Herald office, developed this afternoon into an affair of international importance.

A vicious protest was registered by the American ambassador with the Mexican department of foreign relations, and at the same time the facts were telegraphed to Washington and instructions asked for.

Tonight the attacks were renewed. Windows in a dozen American business places were smashed. All about town shutters were hurriedly drawn and establishments closed. Forces of police appeared in the streets and kept the crowds moving.

An attack was made upon the plant of El Imperial, and the mailing and distributing departments on the ground floor were completely wrecked. The mob battered at the heavy doors leading to the editorial and composing rooms above with heavy timbers and fired the wreckage.

One of the attackers was run through and killed. The others fled. An alarm turned in from the offices of the paper brought the fire department to the scene before the flames gained headway.

Old Glory Insulted.

While the police looked on and seemingly made no effort to prevent it, an American flag, flowing in front of a candy store in the business district, was torn down by a crowd of students and others, trampled and spat upon and torn to bits. Later photographs were taken of the flag before the office of the Diario del Hogar, a Mexican newspaper, with many individuals waving bits of the tattered banner.

The demonstration today was a continuation of the affair of last night, caused by anti-foreigner feeling among the people by the burning at the stake of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, Utah, on the night of November 3.

Publication of violent attacks on Americans by several Mexican papers tended further to increase the medical students who were the promoters of last night's demonstration.

El Diario del Hogar was particularly violent in its expressions of animosity toward the people of the United States, characterizing them as "giants of the dollar," pigmies of culture and barbarians of the north. It asked: "Where is the boasted Yankee civilization?"

Shortly before noon the crowd assembled before the new Juarez monument in the Alameda and proceeded to the municipal palace, where several who were arrested last night were being examined by the authorities. A company of mounted police followed.

From the palace the students marched through Avenida San Francisco, the principal business thoroughfare, stopping in front of the candy store where the flag incident occurred.

An American Who Fought.

The gathering increased and marched to the offices of the department of foreign relations, making demonstrations on the way against American business places and breaking windows in the San Francisco hotel. Jack Davis, an American, who was in the crowd, had a hand encounter with a dozen members of the crowd when they attempted to tear the top from his automobile and enter his establishment. He knocked several of them to the pavement and drove them from his place.

At 4 o'clock a parade, around the famous statue of the Iron Horse, speeches were made denouncing all Americans, and a passing street car conveying school children to the American school was stoned. One child was struck and severely injured.

GREAT SURPRISE OVER THE RESULT

St. Louis, Mo., Comes to Front
With Republican Plurality of 30,000.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9.—An official count probably will be required to determine whether the Republicans or the Democrats carried Missouri for the state ticket in yesterday's election. The result is in doubt tonight, with both sides claiming victory. The Democrats say they have won by from 3,000 to 5,000 plurality. The Republicans claim the official count will show their ticket to have been elected, but giving no figures.

With three-fourths of the precincts in the state heard from, the anti-prohibition victory seems greater than at first reported.

Indications now point to a majority in excess of 175,000 against the proposed amendment.

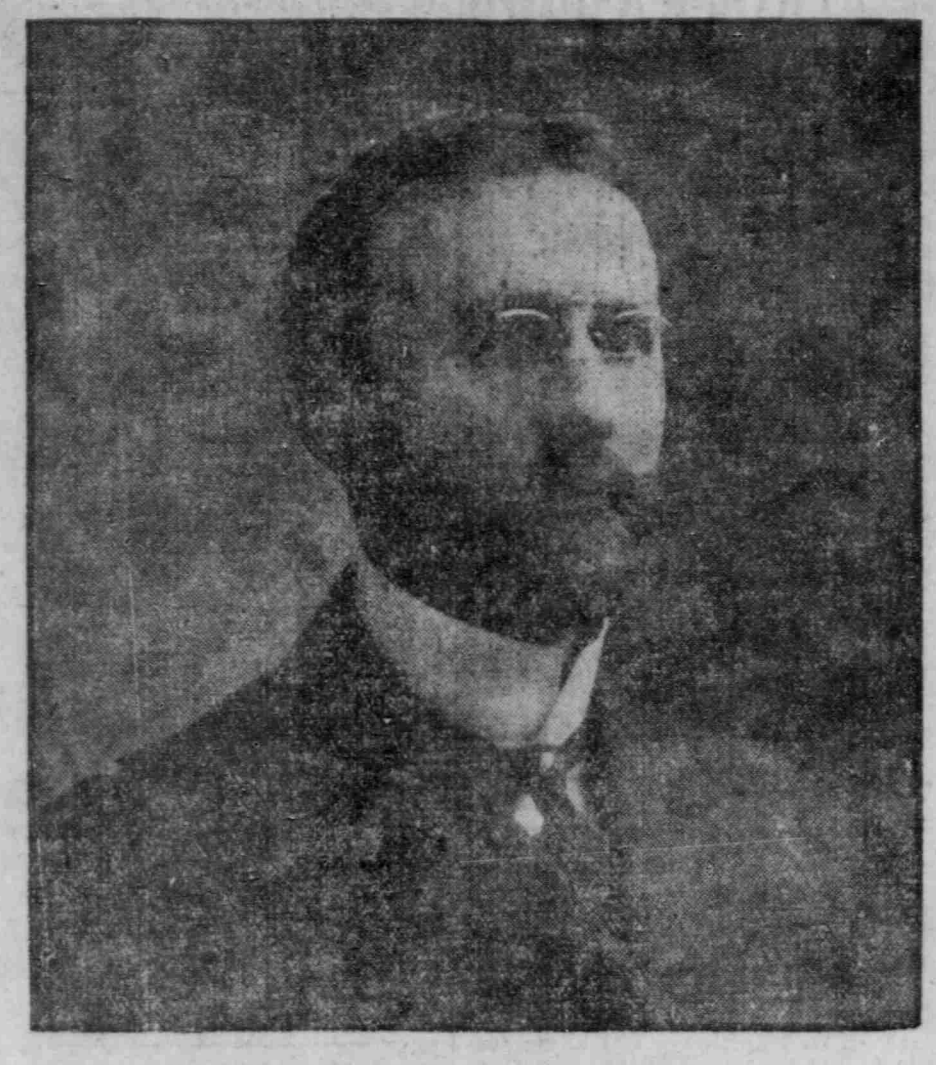

The most surprising feature of the Missouri election was the exceptional plurality for the Republican ticket in St. Louis. The average is now near thirty thousand, and the Democrats elected only two justices and two constables.

The plurality of James A. Reed of Kansas City over David R. Francis of St. Louis in the Democratic senatorial contest is fixed at 20,000, with one-fourth of the counties to hear from.

The Democrats claim a majority of fifty-one on joint ballot in the legislature.

Except for the Seventh district, where Holmes Hall, Republican, claims to have defeated Courtney W. Hamlin, Democrat, the congressional situation remains unchanged.

New York, Nov. 9.—Charges that fraud and undue influence induce General Thomas Eckert, former head of the Western Union Telegraph company, to estate to his elder son, Thomas T. Eckert, Jr., are made by James C. Eckert, the younger son in proceedings begun today to set aside the will. It is alleged that General Eckert was of unsound mind when he drew up the document.

MANY ASPIRANTS

Democrats to Make Grand Rush for the Depeu Toga.

New York, Nov. 9.—With a safe Democratic majority assured in the next state legislature which will select a United States senator, political prophets are picking a probable successor to Chauncey M. Depew.

Already the names of four men in New York City have been advanced as having performed party services meriting the reward. They are William F. Sheehan, former Judge, Alton B. Parker, Edward M. Shepard and John B. Stanchfield.

Parker and Sheehan are law partners. The latter is a former speaker of the house and former lieutenant governor. Edward M. Shepard of Brooklyn was the Democratic candidate for mayor of New York City in 1901 and was one of the men mentioned for the gubernatorial nomination at the Rochester convention.

John B. Stanchfield was the Democratic nominee for governor in 1900, and received the complimentary nomination of his party for United States senator in 1901.

FEW DEMOCRATS IN LEGISLATURE

Howell's Majority in the State Is 18,028—Republicans Poll Over
16,000 in Salt Lake County

NO ELECTION in Utah was ever marked by so overwhelming a victory as the Republicans scored Tuesday, complete returns from every county in the state having been received by The Herald-Republican at midnight last night.

Washington is the only county in the state not carried by Congressman Joseph Howell and Chief Justice D. N. Straup. There, the entire Democratic ticket was elected.

Complete returns from all counties show that Howell received 49,336 votes, against Erickson's 31,308, giving Howell a majority of 18,028.

The make-up of the next legislature will be as follows:

Senate—Republicans, 15; Democrats, 2.
House—Republicans, 38; Democrats, 7.

This insures the re-election to the United States Senate of George Sutherland.

RAILROAD 'TECS' COMING

Burlington Special Officers to Investigate Counterfeiting of the Road's Time Checks.

Detectives of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway are on their way to Salt Lake to make an investigation of Harry Reckmeyer and Elmer Peterson, who attempted to imitate pay checks of the railway in the engraving plant of John Held in South Main street. Yesterday afternoon Ray Gaisford was arrested as an accomplice of the two first suspects.

It is believed that Reckmeyer and Peterson have been laboring for weeks to defraud the Burlington railway and only recently detectives lost their trail. Gaisford, who was arrested yesterday, has acted as a stool pike for the police department, yet he is believed to be an accomplice in the full sense of the word.

MAYOR GAYNOR OF NEW YORK PROPOSES TO STOP ROTING

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Mayor Gaynor issued two letters tonight which promise to bring the strike of express company employees to a head tomorrow. Briefly, he forbids the operation of wagons by unlicensed drivers, thus eliminating the strike breakers. Mayor Wittpenn of Jersey City had already taken this stand and a test case is now in the Jersey City Courts.

John Williams, state commissioner of labor, is due here from Albany tomorrow and with Mayor Gaynor's action and a threat of state intervention, it is hoped that a settlement will be reached.

Brings Matters to a Focus in the Strike of Express Company Employees

The mayor's letters are addressed to the American Express company and Mayor Wittpenn of Jersey City, respectively.

To the company he writes in part: "Although the strike has been on for over two weeks, the express companies have not, up to today, caused their drivers to be vouched for and licensed as required by law before they may act. I must now require that this condition cease."

and the city protecting by police escorts wagons driven by unlicensed drivers in violation of the law is exciting just criticism. We have continued this protection only because we expected from day to day on second thought you would not, especially at such a time, continue such an object of disrespect and disregard of the law.

"You also are using unlicensed wagons in violation of law. Unlicensed carts and vendors' wagons found in the streets are taken to the corporation yard and impounded there. Are you not able to see how demoralizing it would be to exempt you from the rule that applies by law to all without distinction?"

In his letter to Mayor Wittpenn, Mayor Gaynor reviews the men's demands, the instance of one company, or one man, to accept it as a basis of settlement, but wanted an additional condition that they should be free to reject or discharge anyone on the ground that he had joined the union. They rejected what is called the "one man" rule.

The "one company" is the United States Express company and the "one man" is Frank H. Platt, its president.
